Nothing Much Happened

By Judas Iscariot

We read with rapt interest the conference paper on the future organisation of our annual trip to the seaside. It appears to overlook the most important issue: good lumbar support. Which potential venue offers ergonomic seating which fully meets H&S standards including full spinal support and have enough cushioning on the seat to combat agonising torment for those suffering from haemorrhoids? You may laugh, but it's no fun for those afflicted. Given that we have a rapidly ageing activist base and that the chairs are – technically - fucking awful and we are supposed to be committed to H&S, isn't it about time someone put a motion down to ensure that delegates' health is no longer compromised in this manner. And while we're at it: next year's conference will be here in sunny Brighton, once again, starting with group conferences on Monday 19th May 2008 – you read it here first.

The whole of Geordieland is rejoicing at the return of KEVIN McWHO to his rightful place on the NEC after ten years of absence while we bid a fond farewell to MATTY McGARRY (HMRC Newcastle) who is taking an early bath in June. A professional Catholic, Fr McGARRY was seen stuffing his pockets with free condoms from the HMRC Young Members stall yesterday. On being questioned he claimed that they were for his sons. This could cause an incident if wife and Big Pope BENNY supporter PAULINE finds out. McGARRY spends his nights at the King & Queen public house on the karaoke. His cover of Purple Haze ranks as a conference must see. Fr McGarry is 58.

On the other hand DOREEN PURVIS, one of the legendary Mendicant “Newcastle wEight” back in the 1980s, cannot be with us as she is attending her son John's wedding. She's arranged for a big bash in Berwick on Tweed, funded by her lucrative Employment Tribunal members' expenses, which helps supplement her meagre pension. On a good day it works out at around £140 a day.

But there's a dark side to the land that brought us Viz, Georgie Fame, the Animals, Dire Straits, Lindisfarne, the Police, Newcastle Brown Ale and drive-by shootings. During the last strike TED EUERS swept past the pickets in his car to go to work. A few years ago EUERS, a former VP and NEC member, was the MAD MONK'S right hand man in the old ME FIRST faction. Now he designs forms for the HMRC. Another scab is GRAHAM WHITEMAN, a former member of the CPSA NEC in the RAMSBLADDER era, who blithely walked past the pickets on 1st May in Washington Child Benefits (HMRC).

As you can see, there's no real news today, so we'll tell you about poor old JOEL HIRSCH again. He was overjoyed at getting permission to sell his SOCIALIST WANKER rag again under the new UDWIN regime, so, to look more proletarian, he stole Col ISLAM'S cap while our senior commander was having a fag. HIRSCH was forgiven after he agreed to make a further contribution to the PFL's fighting fund. But he returned after lunch wearing a dirty old, green corduroy cloth cap which he claimed he had "just found". If you see an OAP wandering around looking for his headwear just point him in JOEL'S direction. Believe it or not HIRSCH sat on the 12-strong Passport Office GEC for two years before anyone realised that they were only allowed ten seats according to their constitution. Two had to go and JOEL picked one of the short straws. He doesn't know how he got on in the first place.

FRANK CAMPBELL, who retired two months ago, is rapidly going to seed. He's just joined WEIGHT-WATCHERS along with his wife AMANDA FRANKENSTEIN.

Needless to say the 4TM "closed doors" rally at the Hilton last night was as boring as it gets with a platform consisting of the usual JAKE plus GRAHAM STEEL and failed CPSA BL84 presidential candidate JOHN MOFFAT. There was no collection but doubtless STEEL ensured that BRYSON wasn't out of pocket. JAKE is, though - he spent £25 on his shitty haircut - as you can see.

Last night's Club Caucus social was a much more working class disco-style effort this year from the champions of Marxist dogma in stark contrast to last year's bourgeois affair. Decent music, no cocktails, no Champers and beer prices within the reach of the working man/woman. And despite an unimpressive performance at the polls the mood was affable. Even the 2 LU guests of the usual 4TM attendees were not treated like pariahs, despite PETE GODDARD winning some nuts in the raffle. The prize was promptly donated by the ever generous FRANK GILES to 4TM newcomer HAYLEY BROWN, JAKE's constant companion.

We're still waiting...

Annual Report enthusiastically endorsed at Annual General Meeting

By Maynard Keynes

PCS shares gained 13p on morning trading following better than expected results announced at the AGM in Brighton this week. Since 1999 the corporation has recorded significant growth year on year and this was reflected in the accounts for the last financial year.

Mr Marek Serwotka, the CEO and architect of the rapid turnaround in fortunes for PCS following the merger with two smaller mutual insurance companies in the late 1990s, was confident that PCS would continue to retain market confidence in turbulent times while defending the jobs, pay and conditions of its human resources in the personal services sector.

The soaring price of oil together with the imposition of environment controls in compliance with EU restrictions has been offset by the sale of the Victoria complex, the revaluation of Falconcrest corporate headquarters and the continuing strength of sterling in the international market. Though unit costs have risen in line with wage inflation these have been mitigated through prudent fiscal planning and utilisation of temporary staff from Poland and other beneficiaries of the European open market in labour.

The Grandee, Democrat and Lunity labels have maintained their share of the market despite increased competition on the high street. However the slump in sales of Planet Caucus last year raised the question of the future of this operation which was eventually resolved this month by a management buyout. Mr Roderick Bacon stepped down from the board on mutually agreeable terms and took with him his assistants, Mr Charles Macdonald and Mr Lee Rock which was noted by Mrs Williamson, the company secretary, who wished them well in their future endeavours. But the board had been strengthened by the welcome return of Mr Kevin McHugh (NE sales) after an absence of ten years.

4TM, the brand launched in 2005 by Mr Jacob Wilde succeeded in retaining its market share in the youth market and its management has been strengthened with the appointment of Mr Robert Bryson as southern area manager.

Mr Ray Alderson, senior member of the Revolutionary Command Council, paid tribute - at the AGM - to the PFL and wife for their in their part in his success

Divisional Manager Frank Campbell (sun-beds) retired this year and was thanked for his loyal service. Raymond Alderson, one of the company's long-standing regional managers, was presented with a golden tankard by Mrs Williamson, on behalf of the board in token for his life-time achievement. Chief Roland Biosah OBE (419) got a silver ash-tray for his sterling work on personnel integration and Mr

Robert Bowman was awarded a bronze paper knife for his contribution to the company's success.

Islamic Left - OPPOSE – Family life is no business of government or its employment relations. Stick to what you know.

IL - OPPOSE – You cannot make the river run upstream.

WBC OPPOSE – Will you never learn? You cannot IMPOSE equality! MYBH.

IL– OPPOSE – a disgusting law which offers a smokescreen for the most depraved elements of society.

Bad Poetry 1

There was a young man called Dave
Who kept a dead whore in a cave
He said I admit
I'm a bit of a shit
But think of the money I save

Bad Poetry 2

There was a young woman called Alice
Who peed in a Catholic chalice
She said: I do this
From a great need to piss
And not from sectarian malice
