UNITY! FREEDOM! SOCIALISM! - ONE CIVIL SERVICE UNION, ONE GLORIOUS DESTINY!

REVOLUTIONARY DAZE

Round & About - By Judas Iscariot

It was a bright cold day in London, and the clocks were striking thirteen. The Speaker departs and BARRY REAMSBOTTOM empties his locker, hands in his pass and leaves the House of Commons for the last time. But in the evening in Brighton another drama was being played out as hundreds of delegates trooped into the THISTLE HOTEL to launch the Grandee campaign to re-elect MARK SERWOTKA. A senior pfl agent reports:

This was possibly the worst case of sycophantic brown-nosing in the history of civil service trade unionism if not the whole of the trade union movement.

foaming agent

Ever. The organiser, probably MARTIN JOHN, had strangely underestimated the number of cannon-fodder and stooges who wanted to pay homage to MAREK. The original 180 odd seat venue had to be extended by the hotel staff to accommodate more like twice that number. SERWOTKA, who arrived soon after the official 6.00 pm start, used the delay to press the flesh in the style of the American presidential candidates he's seen on the telly. All the speakers, in their "personal capacity", were seated under an official PCS (BERR) logo backdrop. Hotel staff would not confirm whether rooms had been paid by PCS BERR, a PCS political grouping or an individual PCS member.

SUE BOND, the leader of the SOCIALIST WANKERS in PCS, was given the task of chairing the rally which she opened in her dull and uninspiring way concluding by reading out a list of apologies from a number of nonentities wishing MARK every success in the forthcoming poll. This was followed by the dynamic DWP President, JANE AITCHISON, who claimed she had been a SERWOTKA supporter from the day he decided to challenge BARRY REAMSBOTTOM in 2000. Her memory appears to playing tricks as she has forgotten that LANNING was the original Grandee choice. JANE then rambled on about how the evil RAMSBLADDER had stabbed CPSA activist AMANDA LANE in the back but MAREK would never had done this. JOHN McINALLY (Lane's partner) and half a dozen old DE members applauded. No one else had a clue what the fuck she was on about.

(continued from page 1) AITCHISON then went on to stress that SERWOTKA was “one of us” as he had donated £90,000 to PCS campaigns. This year’s accounts show that SERWOTKA donated £4,000 which implies that he has paid £86,000 over the other years that he’s been GS – which would be news to us.

JANE was then followed by ZITA HOLBOURNE with more crawling which was only surpassed by the toadying of MR BEAN. Then SUE BOND claimed that Messrs LANNING and BAUGH could not be with us because they were attending to other urgent union business elsewhere. Which was odd because our agent had just seen BOFF chatting with delegates some distance away, outside the FIDDLERS ELBOW.

SERWOTKA gave an unusually folksy speech peppered with references to Cardiff City FC which were meaningless to most of the assembled audience. None of the Grandees mentioned 4TM, JAKE WILDE or GOLDENBOY BRYSON by name but ranted on instead about the ogre REAMSBOTTOM, who hasn’t shown his face at PCS conference since his downfall, isn’t in the running and is barely eligible to stand even in the unlikely event that he would want to.

When MADAME BOND introduced JANICE GODRICH our agent could bear no more, made his excuses and left. No prominent Commissars or Independent Lefters were in the audience though TONY CONWAY was spotted skulking around the fringes. Curiously enough there was no collection.

SEVI DOES THE SPLITS

All the Grandees dashed off from the MAREK-FEST for an emergency NEC to discuss the crisis in Metropolitan Police provoked by SEVI YESIDALLI who is pursuing a crackpot scheme to break away from the union because she hasn’t been able to get back on the NEC for the second year running. Earlier the Standing Orders committee had demonstrated their incompetence by agreeing to A-mark a Met Police emergency motion calling for a negotiated secession from our great and glorious union regardless of the fact that similar futile motions from Neanderthal elements in the old IR had been regularly X-marked in the past. SEVI, furious at Grandee attempts to launch an official investigation into her expenses claims, was believed to be already touting for support beyond her own group for her new “union”.

But SERWOTKA was clearly more pre-occupied with his own election campaign rather than any sort of nonsense from the frankly irrational and unstable SEVI. He directly asked DIANE BREEN, the outgoing 4TM NEC member, whether they were going to contest the election and who their likely candidate would be even though this had been plainly revealed in yesterday’s communiqué. DIANE told him that the 4TM leadership would be making a decision on Thursday and that she had nothing more to add.

Sadly, the ranks of the PCS DEMOCRAT heavyweights are somewhat depleted in Brighton this week. STEVE COMER has been despatched by President GODRICH to represent our “interests” at the Welsh TUC in Llandudno and IAN ALBERT is in hospital having gall-bladder treatment. That leaves NEIL LICENSE in charge. He’s in Brighton but no-one of any importance has seen him so far.

Incidentally ALBERT has been somewhat dilatory in performing his branch duties. High-caste Ian was treasurer of DWP London HQ until October last year. He has still to hand over the accounts to his successor who is now considering appealing to the Finance Office at Falconcrest to help sort out the mess.

Sloane - Square

CHARLIE SLOAN is unwisely telling anyone who will listen that he has not had a shag since 22nd January this year and was coming down to Brighton “on the pull”. But he hasn’t struck lucky so far. His best hope was when he lured a nubile female delegate back to his flat for “coffee” Monday night. But when she saw the bizarre arrangement of his accommodation (the bath is in the bedroom next to the bed) she took a couple of gulps and fled.

One look at CHARLIE’s coiffure is enough to put anyone off though his jet black conference quiff is somewhat less colourful than his hair efforts in previous years. He is, however, making up for it by sporting a salmon pink drape jacket and diamanté “Elvis” belt buckle at conference socials.

SLOAN’s usual partner in crime at conference is one TOM LOWRY, who sadly cannot be here as he’s skint. So bad were his finances that he had to abandon his flat and move back with his mother. There he pays her a modest fiver a week to enable him to pay off his debts and build a nest egg, which he hopes will eventually be sufficient to buy up old property, do them up and let. TOM RACHMAN believes he will then amass a property empire that he’ll sell to retire to the Bahamas. In the meantime LOWRY will continue to represent the good members in Keighley and Shipley Jobcentres. Given current economic climate he’s likely to be doing that for a considerable period of time.

The normally pedestrian DCLG Group conference was a bit livelier this time round. During a motion to save the Cunard building in Liverpool the GEC speaker said that our members there had always worked for Cunard with inevitable consequences for NORA MILWARD’s palantypists! (typists specialising in the use of ancient typewriters) Then CHRIS HICKEY used his GEC speech to slag off the NEC and called on conference to support his views. The hapless HICKEY was the only GEC member to lose his motion with even his own CLG London branch opposing him.

Gone are the days of MOD socials with the free wine “tasting” so enjoyed by COLONEL HARDING and his chums. Nothing was planned this year because the bone idle organiser forgot to arrange one. Instead MOD delegates were invited to attend a “get-together” in the bar of the JURY INNS HOTEL which, they were assured, would be free as this was an “informal” gathering. This was very generous as the majority of MOD delegates are booked into the JURY in the first place.

And going soon is poor old JOEL HIRSCH who is taking early retirement at the grand old age of 61. The SWP dogsbody says he’s going to spend his golden years writing an autobiography of his lifetime of struggle in (or with) the union movement.

For Life, Liberty and Property

I appeal to my fellow Libertarians. I know you are out there. Come and join me. Help me share the Libertarian Light with the socially conditioned drones and gatekeepers who are all here to provide the illusion of opposition to the State. Remember, Nothing is as it seems...

I know people will call me a conspiracy nut, but just look at the FACTS.
Let's start by asking a few questions both inside the union and outside in the "real" world:

Why have so many prominent figures in the union suddenly disappeared in recent years?

Where are DONNELLAN, UNDY, DUGGAN, BOYLE, HEMINGWAY?

Why is a full colonel in the British Army allowed to pose every year as a delegate?

Why has the Union Branch at Deepcut never submitted a motion on the mass slaughter which took place under their noses?

If I asked 27 members to vote in the recent NEC elections and 13 of them did (48.148%) why are we being told that less than 10% of the members voted in those elections?

And, beyond these four walls, is it only me, or are Swine Flu, MP's corrupt expense claims, so called Global Warming and the bursting of the Global Financial Fraud Bubble just too convenient a set of distractions to be believed?

And have you noticed how the logo on the Brighton Centre, if you look at it sideways is a blatant representation of a giant mosquito, proboscis extended?!

What does all this mean? It means that we're being lied to from almost every direction. But more of that later in the week. Meanwhile, let's take a look at the first day's motions, the very first of which illustrates the scale of the problem we're up against:

Motion A1: Oppose

It's all right there in one motion: the collectivist utopianism, the frontal attack on private property, the intent to keep citizens sucking on the teet of the Mammy State, dependent on it for their jobs, their centrally controlled child and youth indoctrination education and even their personal health and protection. Tossed with a light salad of hobbled free trade and suppression of free speech and association. What could possibly go wrong?

Motion A3: Oppose

Here we see the collectivists openly exposing their priorities to the public gaze. The global financial system is going down the plughole taking the savings of millions with it. What are they worried about here? Their own jobs!

Motion A8: Oppose

Bit more subtle this one. The role of the union here is to provide sufficient opposition to the alleged intent of the State to reduce its own size and power, in the hope that government can then use the resulting groundswell of public opposition to justify abandoning its own plans. Clever stuff.

Motion A20: Oppose

Modern day slaves are somewhat more expensive to maintain than their forebears but, in order to smother the fact of their slavery, it is necessary to provide the illusion that they "negotiate" the terms and conditions of their maintenance. Smoke and Mirrors.

PFLCPSA NEWS

We welcome delegates new and old to the annual jamboree. The imams are always available, albeit, often in spirit only, to advise and guide you. We will also help reduce the burden of reality and the excess cash painfully rattling around in your pockets. In return we expect your undivided loyalty and obedience. When we text Flash Mob instructions, we expect an instant response. You can't break eggs without making an omelette. Apologies to Elaine Anderson. I deleted the image.

Did I mention T-Shirts? £10 and, on request, due to an accident in the Supply Chain, we can now offer the short sleeved version. Orders submitted today will be delivered tomorrow morning.

Last chance to submit stories is at the daily debriefing in the Old Ship – 10.30pm.

It's your round.
